

Ike May Slow Spending to Fight Inflation

By MEERIMA SMITH

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower said today it might be necessary to slow up federal spending on some projects in order to relieve inflationary pressures.

In his first news conference since Feb. 6, Mr. Eisenhower said he has ordered an intensive review of the budget to determine whether spending for certain projects could be slowed down to achieve a budget cut for fiscal 1958.

He did not identify the projects. His budget for fiscal 1958 calls for spending $71.8 billion.

Mr. Eisenhower said he did not anticipate being able to make any substantial cut which would cause material reduction of federal services or in any way affect the defense and national security of the nation.

Mr. Eisenhower, coughing repeatedly told reporters in his first meeting with them in a month that he was suffering today from a temporary difficulty with his hearing.

Frequently during the conference he asked reporters to speak louder and more distinctly.

He said he is feeling well and that actually his cough, which has hung on since inauguration, is better. But he said he now has developed a cold in the head which has affected his hearing.

He had plugs of cotton or gauze in each ear and his voice had a husky tone.

He said that, in view of the Middle East situation and the absence from the country of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, it would be awkward for him to go to Arizona now in an effort to lick his cough and cold.

Other news highlights at the conference:

—He does not think there can be any substantial cuts in foreign aid. His budget for fiscal 1958 calls for $4.4 billion.

—He confirmed that he told King Saud of Saudi Arabia recently that Israel is here to stay as a nation. He said he has been consistent for years in his position that Israel is a historical fact and its problems must be dealt with like those of any other her nation.

—He said the United States is prepared to use the Gulf of Aqaba and its gateway — the Straits of Tiran—as an open international waterway.

—He said the Middle East outlook is brighter but there are still many problems which can come up.

Negro Group to Battle Racial Laws

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Hundreds of Negro ministers served notice yesterday they will launch the first legal assault against new racial laws which one declared would make them criminals.

The Rev. Edgar Smith, a Baptist pastor here who presided at the closed meeting of 300 ministers, said "These pro-segregation measures have to be tested through the courts of the land."

He said legal counsel "was being employed for the court test. Singled out as a major target was the measure creating a Sovereignty Commission, which has broad investigative powers to defend states rights."

"Under this legislation," the Rev. Mr. Smith said, "we cannot even support the Supreme Court decision on desegregation. If we do, we become criminals."

The three other bills would require certain organizations to register with the commission, give legal assistance to school districts fighting integration and permit parents to keep their children from attending integrated schools.

All four bills were backed by Gov. Orval Faubus and received overwhelming majorities in the legislature.

"We have no fund started yet," the Rev. Mr. Smith said, "but we plan to finance our first test case through whatever means possible. He said he did not know when or where the test would begin."

Rabies Outbreak in the County Is a Possibility

Bill could Pay for Violent Death

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The violent death of an infant at the Booneville Tuberculosis Sanatorium was discussed on the floor of the Senate today when a bill for a $10,000 claim was brought up. The bill was placed on second reading for amendment, thus delaying final action.

Nine-month-old Rickey Neil Biggers died while a patient at the institution last May and authorities said that she had been beaten by a 7-year-old patient.

A claim had been filed by the infant's family, charging negligence on the part of the sanatorium.

The bill, by Sen. Marvin Melton of Jonesboro, would set aside $10,000 to settle the claim in the event the Claims Commission should find it justified.

Sen. Boss Mitchell of Danville opposed the bill on the ground that no charges have been filed against the institution and that the bill was resulting in unfortunate publicity.

Sen. Guy Jones of Conway said that an amendment would change what he described as "ill advised wording" in the bill.

Second County 'Book Fair' Is Planned

The second Hempstead County Book Fair will be held at Hempstead County Library March 19-20 from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. and at Yenger High School Library March 22 from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. The Book Fair will be sponsored by the Hempstead County Library and co-sponsors will be the Arkansas Library Commission, Children's Book Council of New York and the Hope Jaycees.

This year the Book Fair will feature books for all ages. The 750 children's books which will be displayed are a gift to the Arkansas Library Commission by the Children's Book Council. Many of the books are new 1956 publications, although some will be new editions of old favorites. For your convenience the books for all ages — pre-school through high school — will be divided into ten categories: Animals — Fact and Fiction; Fairy and Folk Tales — Legends — Myths; Information Please; Nature — Science — Hobbies; Places and People; Picture Books; Poetry — Music — Art — Religion; Sports; Stories; and Teen-Age Fiction.

An added feature of the Book Fair will be a section of books for adults. The two hundred books of eighty two publishers are 1956 publications and were given to the Arkansas Library Commission by the publishers for a Workshop and traveling exhibit. These books will be divided into four groups: Man and His Family; Man and His Community; Man and His State and Nation; and Man and His World.

The purpose of the Fair is to bring together people and good books. The aims to stimulate the reading in young people, to point out new juvenile books and to draw attention of adults to the importance of books in the well-rounded development and growth of children. There are books to answer all questions — books for information as well as recreation.

Superintendents and teachers are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to see so many of the newest and best books. Teachers wanting to bring classes to the Book Fair should make arrangements with Mrs. Prichard, Librarian, as to the date and time.

DeValera Is Winner in Ireland Vote

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—Eamon de Valera won control of the Irish Parliament today in a dramatic political comeback.

This means the old fighter—now 74 and nearly blind—will replace John A. Costello as Ireland's prime minister after three years on the sidelines as opposition leader.

His Fianna Fail (Men of Destiny) party already has nailed down 71 seats — with prospects of gaining more — and four rebellious Sinn Feiners said they are going to boycott the Dail (parliament).

This means De Valera has a working majority in the 147-seat legislature, since he can count on three, and perhaps four, members who ran as independents in Tuesday's voting.

De Valera's formal elevation to Prime Minister will await the convening of the new parliament March 20. Under the Irish system, the premier is chosen by parliament in a "pocket election" that is only a formality when one party has an overall majority.

De Valera's Fianna Fail party, basically conservative on domestic issues—picked up strength as final returns were being counted, while the challenging Fine Gael ran into setbacks.

Costello has governed at the head of a coalition government supported by the labor and farmers parties and three Republicans.

Free Chinese Talk of Liberating Mainland

By LEONARD LEFKOW

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Nationalist air force captain was celebrating his safe return from a leaflet mission over the Red mainland. He was drunk and the liquor made him melancholy.

"We got to liberate those poor people on the mainland," he said. "We got a cause and we got to do it soon."

In a way the captain is symbolic of the few million Chinese who fled the mainland in 1949 and set led on this island 100 miles from the Red coast.

Tourists who visit Formosa usually are surprised and confused by the steady outpouring of war talk. It pervades virtually every phase of life here.

Newspapers carry daily goads of speeches that deal with safeguarding "deeds" to land the Nationalists hope to strike back. A mainland recovery board

Hempstead County is in the midst of a mild outbreak of rabies, which has not, as yet, reached the alarming stage. However, a condition exists which makes it possible for the disease to reach full epidemic proportions, Dr. Herbert Rogers, veterinarian, said Thursday.

A history of vaccination during the past eight years demonstrates the efficiency of vaccination of dogs. During the eight year period 34 heads were sent to the State Health Department for examination and of this number 11 were positive. In fact 10 of the 11 positives showed up in the past 14 months.

The local Health Department vaccinated 200 dogs in 1949, three heads were examined, no positives.

1950-200 vaccinations, one head examined, no positive.

1951-3,000 dogs vaccinated, one negative head, one positive.

1952-2,500 vaccinated, one negative.

1953-2,000 vaccinated, three negatives.

1954-1,000 vaccinated, two negatives.

1955-800 vaccinated, five negatives.

1956-650 vaccinated, seven negatives.

1957—two months, three positives.

These figures reveal there was no known rabies in Hempstead following the outbreak in 1951 for several years until interest in dog vaccination decreased until on a small percentage of dogs were inoculated.

The chart also dispels an erroneous idea which is common — the mistaken belief that all heads sent to the State Health Department are reported positive.

"The reason I say there is a danger of a major rabies outbreak is this — at the present time there are fewer than 650 inoculated dogs in this county, yet we know there has been at least 10 rabid biting animals in the county during the last 10 months," Dr. Rogers declared.

Under these circumstances every dog owner is urged to have their animals vaccinated.

World Day of Prayer to Be Held Friday

The Council of church women will meet for the "World Day of Prayer" Friday March 8, in the Sanctuary of First Christian Church at 2 p. m.

The theme for the program is "Who Shall Separate us?" Those taking part on the program are: Mrs. Cline Franks, chairman; Mrs. Jack Lowe, Mrs. C. P. Mrs. L. B. Jones, 62, Succumbs in Local Hospital

Mrs. Annie Laura Jones, aged 62, a resident of Hope, died last night in a local hospital.

She is survived by her husband, Louis B. Jones, a son, Harry M. of Barksdale Field, Shreveport; two daughters, Mrs. G. E. Anderson and Mrs. Pete House of Hope; two stepdaughters, Mrs. G. B. Ashcraft of New Orleans, La. and Mrs. C. E. May of Hope; three stepsons, Paul H. of Shreveport, La., B. T. of Paducah, Ky. and Wayne Jones of the U. S. Marine Corps, a brother, Walter Newcomb of Kansas City.

Services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Gospel Tabernacle by the Rev. W. C. Land and the Rev. Mr. Hicks. Burial by Herndon-Cornelius will be in Ross Hill Cemetery.

L. M. Good New MFA Insurance Agent Here

L. M. Good, of Hope, has been appointed local agent for the MFA Mutual Insurance Company, of Columbia, Mo. It is announced by J. M. Silvey, president of the Company.

"We are glad to enroll Mr. Good as one of the nearly 700 agents who are now serving the thousands of MFA Mutual policyholders," Silvey said.

Teacher Bonus Okayed Despite Threat of Veto

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The House today passed 58-23 a House bill to give school teachers an immediate over-all pay increase of about one million dollars.

The bill is similar to a Senate bill which the House defeated earlier this week and which Gov. Orval Faubus had said he would veto if it reached his desk.

Rep. Winford Lake of Sevier, author of the House bill, amended his measure to provide that the payments should not be considered as current revenue.

One million dollars would provide each bonus of about $70 per teacher.

Lake said his technical modification would take care of objections raised to the Senate bill. Opponents of the Senate measure said that it would upset a formula for distribution of school funds, which is partly based on the current year's expenditures.

Faubus' program for tax increases of about 22 million dollars a year calls for about 1 million dollars increase for teachers but this will not be effective until next school year.

The governor has said that money now accruing from the tax program is needed to build up a reserve fund and for construction for various state agencies. An omnibus construction bill is now pending.

The House debated for nearly an hour before voting. Proponents said that teachers had been led to believe that they would get immediate salary increases.

Opponents denied this and said that if the bill becomes law it would remove the funds which otherwise would be available for badly needed construction.

The House approved an emergency clause and adopted a clincher to prevent reconsideration.

The House passed without discussion or dissent a bill to transfer to the local school districts the state vocational schools at Clinton and Huntsville, which have been the subject of legislative controversies at many previous sessions.

The bill was sponsored by the representatives from the respective areas.

One Injured, Heavy Damage in Wreck Here

At 16th and Walker Streets yesterday collision of two automobiles resulted in injury to one person and heavy damage to both vehicles.

An auto driven by Earnest Charles Hunt, 19, and owned by C. F. Hunt, and another driven by Alvin Easterling, 18, owned by Garland Pate, collided. Mickey Pate, 18, riding in the auto driven by Easterling, sustained a hip and leg injury. She was taken to a local hospital for treatment.

Investigating city officers said the front end of the Hunt auto was practically demolished and the left side of the Pate car was smashed. Officers said Hunt was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

This morning on South Hazel autos driven by Myrtle Smith, Hope 3, and Amy Daniels, collided with considerable damage to both vehicles. Officers said Mrs. Daniels was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

Dr. C. R. Culver to Speak Here Thursday

Rev. Virgil D. Keeley, pastor of the 1st Methodist Church, announced today that Dr. Cecil R. Culver, pastor of the 1st Methodist Church in El Dorado, Arkansas, will speak at the evening services on Thursday evening.

Dr. Culver has served as District Superintendent of the Monticello District, and as pastor of Winfield Memorial Church in Little Rock, Arkansas.

The inspirational music is in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fulwider of Austin, Texas. Special Music will be given each night. All services will be held in the First Methodist Church at the corner of 2nd Street and Pine Street. Evening services begin at 7:15 p. m.

Ships Collide, 9 Men Missing as Gas Tanker Sinks

NEW CASTLE, Del. (AP)—An out-bound freighter and a big Navy tanker collided with terrific force in the lower Delaware River early today, touching off a blast that set fire to both vessels. The tanker settled to the bottom in shallow water.

Nine men on the tanker, including the captain, were missing. Thirty-five others on the tanker and the entire 23-member crew of the stricken freighter were saved. Ten were fished out of the burning oil-riddled water.

The crash occurred off the northern end of Pea Patch Jetty, three miles south of New Castle and Pocomoke, N. J. Philadelphia is 50 miles to the north. The river at this spot is two miles wide but the navigable channel is only 50 to 100 yards across.

The sky was overcast and a cold, light rain — which later turned to snow — was falling when the tanker Mission San Francisco collided with the freighter Elma II. Visibility at the time was reportedly six miles.

Both vessels were empty of cargo. Moments after the two big ships collided — the freighter ripped a big hole into the tanker's starboard side — the blast led to the tearing off the tanker's superstructure and the bridge where Capt. William C. Allen of Galveston, Tex., one of the missing was standing with some of his officers.

The sheet of flame fired the bow of the freighter as it backed swiftly away.

Ten hours after the collision the stern of the tanker, jutting out of the debris-filled water, still burned fiercely. Little hope was held that Capt. Allen and the eight other missing men could have survived the tremendous blast and the resulting fire.

Capt. Alexander Kaare of the Elma, an Estonian vessel of Liberian registry owned by Oskar Tidemann & Co., New York City, said his ship was about an hour out of Wilmington, De., when he sighted the tanker.

"We blew our whistle to signal the other ship to turn," he said. "As we kept approaching we blew the whistle again but they didn't acknowledge the signal in any way."

On the other hand, Joseph A. Martell, 42, of Fall River, Mass., on "watch" aboard the tanker, told newsmen after his rescue that he saw the freighter "suddenly moving out of the river."

Soil Bank Acreage Totals 51,574

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas farmers have agreed to deposit 51,574 acres of 1957 cotton allotments in the soil bank reserve and will get a total of $9,117,018 under the program.

Clyde P. Liebling, state administrative officer of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee said yesterday that 4,607 agreements were signed in Arkansas.

Investment participation was in counties where farmers hold small allotments and the yield was poor, the ASC said.

Arkansas farmers also signed 1,002 agreements setting aside 20,001 acres of rice land in the soil bank. They will receive $1,760,276.

Deadline for rice agreements is tomorrow, the ASC said. The cotton acreage deadline has passed.

House Passes Middle East Resolution

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House today passed and sent to President Eisenhower a resolution declaring the United States is willing to fight if necessary to resist Communist aggression in the Middle East.

The roll-call vote was 350-60. The House acted by quickly adopting the Senate version of the resolution which Eisenhower sought on an urgent basis two months ago. The Senate passed the bill Tuesday night, 72-19.

The measure also gives Eisenhower greater leeway in spending 200 million dollars in military-economic aid to the troubled area between now and July 1.

The House, which originally passed it in administration-requested form Jan. 30 by a 355-61 count, stamped final approval only after a last-minute flurry.

Before the House convened Eisenhower told his news conference the Middle East situation looks brighter but fresh details must be dealt with daily.

House Democratic Leader McCormack (Mass.) said it is now up to Eisenhower to carry out the Middle East resolution.

Chairman Gordon (D-Ill.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and Rep. Vucys (Ohio), a senior committee Republican, joined in denouncing the Senate version but said it would be better to accept it than spend more time in getting the resolution passed.

Overriding some last-minute complaints about "gag rule" and "foreign giveaway," House leaders opened today's session an hour earlier than usual and had a one-hour limit put on debate.

House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts predicted passage by a margin at least as wide as the 355-61 vote by which the House first passed the resolution Jan. 30. The House approved almost the exact wording Eisenhower wanted.

The Senate, after lengthy debate, finally passed an amended version Tuesday night 72-19. The White House sent word that the

Bill Signed to Let Gas Firms Fix Rates

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The "fair field price plan of fixing natural gas rates is law today — less than two weeks after the Arkansas Supreme Court held that the system was not authorized by any state law.

Gov. Orval Faubus signed the bill yesterday. It allows gas companies to charge rates according to the price the companies pay for gas from other producers.

In its decision last month, the Supreme Court voided Arkansas's Louisiana Gas Co.'s $4,500,000 rate increase to 34 industrial customers. Ark. La. buys 80 per cent of its gas from other producers.

Senate resolution was acceptable. The Senate struck out the word "authorizes" in the House resolution and provided instead that if the President seems such action necessary, "the United States is prepared to use armed forces to protect request Middle East nations from over Communist aggression."

In an unusual move, House leaders got Rules Committee clearance for a yes-or-no vote on the Senate bill—bypassing the customary conference with senators to iron out differences between House and Senate versions. Chairman Gordon (D-Ill.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee said the Senate changes were "unnecessary" and a "play on words" but valuable time would be lost by haggling over them. "The sooner we present a united posture against Soviet-inspired aggression in the Middle East area, the better, he said. Rep. Vorys of Ohio, a senior committee Republican, said the Senate changes were "harassments" to Eisenhower. But if House-Senate conferees were to "change a single word, we'll run the risk of a second filibuster in the Senate," he said. Reps. Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio) and Colmer (D-Miss) complained that the House had been hurried by the "gag" or closed rule procedure from making any

Stalemate on New Corn and Feed Subsidies

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE
WASHINGTON — Proposals for new corn and feed grain subsidies appeared headed today for a stalemate in the House.

As the House prepared to start final voting late in the day on rival proposals, a widening split among farm state members lessened chances of agreement on any immediate program of help for the Corn Belt.

Uncertainties over the cost of new farm price props, and resentment among city members over more farm spending, made passage of the legislation even more doubtful.

Rep. Smith (D-Va.), chairman of the powerful House Rules Committee, called on the House during debate yesterday to reject a

UN Flag Goes Up Over the Gaza Strip

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

GAZA — The blue and white flag of the United Nations was raised over the Gaza Strip today, replacing the blue and white flag of Israel.

All but a small contingent of Israeli soldiers left the troubled Mediterranean coastal area before dawn after 125 days of occupation. The rest will complete the withdrawal later today.

Withdrawal moves also got under way in the Sharm of Sheikh area on the Gulf of Aqaba. Equipment and supplies for the small garrison there were loaded on ships and started back to Israel.

The Israeli army said troops would be pulled out and administration of the area turned over to U. N. units tomorrow.

The departure from Gaza of the victors in the October-November invasion went off without any major incidents reported. Some shots were heard in Gaza City during the early morning hours, but the cause of the firing was not immediately known.

Untaxed Liquor Is Confiscated

SPRINGDALE (AP) — A load of untaxed liquor valued at between $3,000 and $3,500 was confiscated here last night.

On a tip from Rogers police, Springdale officers topped a car and questioned two young men. Packed into the trunk and back seat of the 1955 (Ford) sedan, officers found 220 jugs of various types of liquor. They said each jug contained from three to six bottles.

The men were identified as Charles Parrott, 22, who gave his address at Stillwell and Oklahoma City, and Charles W. Rogers, 25, of Chapel Hill, N. C.

Rogers said he was not involved in transportation of the liquor, but had merely hitched a ride with Parrott.

Neither would say where the liquor had been purchased or where it was being taken.

New Cotton Fabric Is Developed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department said today cotton fabrics with "built-in" resistance to water and wind are being produced commercially with a new loom device developed by the department.

It said a simple and inexpensive attachment for standard textile looms permits weaving extra-dense cotton fabrics with an inherent water and wind resistance that lasts as long as the fabric itself.

Conventional water-resistant fabrics depend upon chemical treatments which, the department said, are less durable.

Nationalist government has functioned in Formosa.

Sporadic friction along the off-shore islands of Matsu and Quemoy has been at the greatest point in the past four months than at any point in three years.

But the biggest sign-although intangible-is the current peace campaign waged toward Formosa from the Communist mainland.

The Peiping regime has buried the sabre and is now waving the olive branch. It says in effect: you will withdraw away on Formosa unless you come over and join us.

Rumors from that Asian rumor mill, Hong Kong, are reported in the Taipei press always in a derisive manner. The Nationalist answer appears to be a continued buildup in military power. No one here believes the rumors.

The air force captain puts it this way: "Nobody's going to sell us out. We haven't got any traitors here. We're all living for one day-the day we go back to the mainland."

British Plan More Nuclear Stations

LONDON (AP)—Britain plans to triple its atomic power program by building 16 more nuclear stations.

Lord Mills, minister of power, told the House of Lords the government hopes to have 16 stations in operation along the coast by 1965. He said such a program would provide about one fourth of the electricity the nation needs.

Three nuclear stations were ordered when the atomic energy program was set up by the government in 1955. One already is supplying electricity.

The power minister estimated the cost over the nine-year period at about 1,460,000,000 pounds ($1,988,000,000). He said the big increase was decided upon because of the greatly expanding demand for power and the financial burden of buying fuel abroad.

Mr. C. H. Culhuthson, Saratoga. Discharged: Mrs. Lois Winkler, John, Saratoga.

DOROTHY DIX

Army's a Safe Berth For Guy With Woman-Trouble

Dear Dorothy Dix: I've been in the Army six years. I enlisted because a girl ran out on me. I came out, found a girl to love, then discovered she was only 16 (she told me 18) and her mother wouldn't let her get married. So I re-enlisted. Now I have to decide whether to stay in service, or dismiss these girls as two bad lemons and get out and try again. Joel

Dear Joel: Well at least you can be sure of the Army; it will always be there when you need it, and the cure for your broken heart will be no further away than the next enlistment station. Girls may come and girls may go, but the infantry marches on forever. You like the service; better stick with it.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Recently we moved into a suburban home from a city apartment. I've never been used to neighbors, and was quite surprised at the reception we received. The people on both sides invited me to tea, where I met several other neighbors. How can I return these favors? Glenda

Dear Glenda: You're most fortunate in receiving so warm a welcome from your neighbors. Follow their examples of graciousness and hospitality. Don't rush into attachments with one or two people, give yourself time to know them all and enjoy the experience of living in a friendly neighborhood.

As soon as your home is settled, invite your new friends for a housewarming. They'll be dying to see what you've done with the place, anyway.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have always wanted to go to church with my parents as other children do. However, my father doesn't believe in God, and only makes fun of me for the things I do.

Last week I was appointed to a committee, which made me very happy. When I told Dad, his reaction was, "Oh, they just want you to do the dirty work." Other

New Fight Shapes Over Farm Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new fight is shaping up between the Eisenhower administration and Democratic critics in Congress over local administration of federal farm programs.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has set up an administrative system which imposes most of the responsibilities on county office managers who can be replaced at will by the secretary through State Stabilization and Conservation Committees appointed by him.

Some Democrats are pressing for congressional action which would do away with the office managers and restore administration to locally-elected farmer committees. The former committee system was inaugurated in the mid-30s.

ican-born De Valera and a Flannery party stalwart, trailed by 151 votes.

The two men held their seats with about the same margin as in the last general election in 1934. Three years ago the 74-year-old De Valera fell short of gaining a majority in the 147-member Dail. He needs to pick up seats to again become prime minister.

He has turned thumbs down to the idea of forming any coalition with other parties.

The coalition administration of the 65-year-old Costello, of the Fine Gael party, collapsed last month and he dissolved Parliament. One man out of every 10 is on the role and the coalition broke down over unemployment policy.

Weather Over Nation Varies

By The Associated Press

The nation's weather showed only minor changes today, mostly fair and warm in the Northeast and Far Southwest, snow in the Rockies and rain in Southern and Western areas.

Warming occurred in most areas east of the Mississippi River while the biggest cooling was reported in eastern sections of Wyoming. Cold air over the northern Rockies moved southward and temperatures were under 20 degrees, some 15 to 25 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier.

Heavy snow fell in parts of Montana, Colorado and Wyoming. From 1 to 6 inches of fresh snow covered most areas with 7 inches in Leadville, Colo.

Showers spread during the night northward from the lower Mississippi Valley into the Ohio Valley as a low-pressure area moved through the Gulf states.

BEAUTY BITS FROM THE SHOP OF MARCELETE

Question In your opinion are hair styles definitely getting longer?

Answer No — Women set the hair styles themselves and they have fallen in love with short hair because it is flattering and easy to care for. At least 90% of our customers prefer short hair.

Question My face is heart shaped. How should I wear my hair?

Answer A fluff of curls below or behind the ears makes the chin look rounder. So does the page boy style.

Wertz Wants Only a Run Each Game

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Vic Wertz doesn't care how many home runs he hits for the Cleveland Indians this year as long as he drives in a run a game.

The bald-headed first baseman was the No. 2 home run hitter in the American League last year with 32 "Bris" runs batted in.
are more important," he said today. Wertz batted in 108 last year.

Jonesboro, Rogers to Highlight Play

JONESBORO, (AP) — A game
tonight between defending champion Jonesboro and Rogers will highlight the quarter-finals of the fast-moving state Class A Boys basketball tournament here.

Whitehall will tangle with Marlana in the second nightcap.

This afternoon the quarterfinals were to be launched with Leachville against Forrest City and Sheridan playing Stephens.

Jonesboro shook off a bad case of cold shooting yesterday to crush
Clinton 64-43. Underdog Clinton gave the titlists considerable trouble in the first half.

Dick Pickens led Jonesboro with 18 points. Jim Penrod netted 14 for Clinton's high scoring.

Whitehall climbed past Hope 47-42 in a sensational second half comeback. Hope led 16-4 after the first quarter ended.

A startling 22-point performance in the final period drowned Hope.
Sherman Watts and John Reed led with 13 points as Whitehall's high scorers. David Watkins, a sophomore, had 15 for Hope.

dians' first baseman again, but he'll play anywhere he's needed.
Before he came to Cleveland he was an outfielder.

"I've heard rumors I might be needed in the outfield again, so I'm getting my arm in shape," he said. "If I'm needed in the outfield for a few games, I'll be ready. I'd even try third base if they asked me."

Wertz is showing the same determination he demonstrated when he reported for spring training a year ago after recovering from a bout of polio.

Bobcats Blow Big Lead to Lose in State Meet

The Hope Bobcats, champs of District 7W, lost to White Hall 48 to 43 last night in the Class A state tournament being played at Jonesboro. The Bobcats lost eliminated them from the tournament and gave them a season record of 24 wins and 5 losses.

Coach Taylor's quintet led 16-4
at the end of the first quarter, 30-16 at the half and 36 to 25 at the end of the third period. White Hall's big quarter came when it counted, racking up 23 points in the final period while holding the Bobcats to 7 points.

Most of the entries have raced here previously this meeting.

The only one to have reached the winners circle is W. L. Dorsey's Bar Chip, who won a nose decision over Mrs. M. A. Silagys
Retract over a 5 1/2-furlong distance on opening day. Retract is on the also eligible list.

One of the strong contenders was R. E. Hurst's Liveitup. The 7-year-old was third to Big Power and First Bond his first time out.

In the same event were F. O.
Akin's Fire Fire Fire, who wound up fourth, and Mrs. A. M.
Creech's Mammas Baby, who finished ninth. Both of the latter will also compete in the Magnolia.

Soldier Is Question in Murder Case

MAHWAH, N. J., — (UP) —

Authorities planned to question soldiers at an Army Nike base today in a search for a buck-toothed sadist who viciously murdered a 15-year-old girl.

The mutilated, half-nude body of Victoria Zielinski was found by her parents yesterday morning crumpled in a gravel pit near a lover's lane. Victoria's skull was crushed, her jaw and nose broken, several teeth were missing and her breasts were scarred by bites.

Bergen County Prosecutor Guy W. Callisi said an autopsy showed the pretty sophomore honor student at Ramsey High School had not been raped although her sweater was pulled up to her neck and her brassiere had been torn off.

Victoria put up a "terrific struggle," Callisi said, because her father had taught her judo. He called the slaying the "most vicious, most brutal and the most sadistic I have ever seen."

Callisi said the girl probably had been murdered by "someone she knew." He said police concluded the killer has buck teeth because of the alignment of teeth marks on the girl's breast.

Detectives from Mahwah and nearby Ramsey, aided by Callisi's staff, had questioned some 30 persons, mostly teenagers, by early today. They also planned to question soldiers stationed at a

Two Newsmen Told to Leave Cuba

HAVANA (Two U. S. Newsmen arrested twice in four days after they tried to interview rebel leader Fidel Castro Luz planned to leave for Florida today. They said they had been ordered out of Cuba.

Reporter George Prentice, 32, an photographer Tony Faletta, 33, were released last night after the U. S. Embassy intervened. The men were on leave from the Birmingham (Ala.) News and were doing free-lance reporting for the National Broadcasting Co.

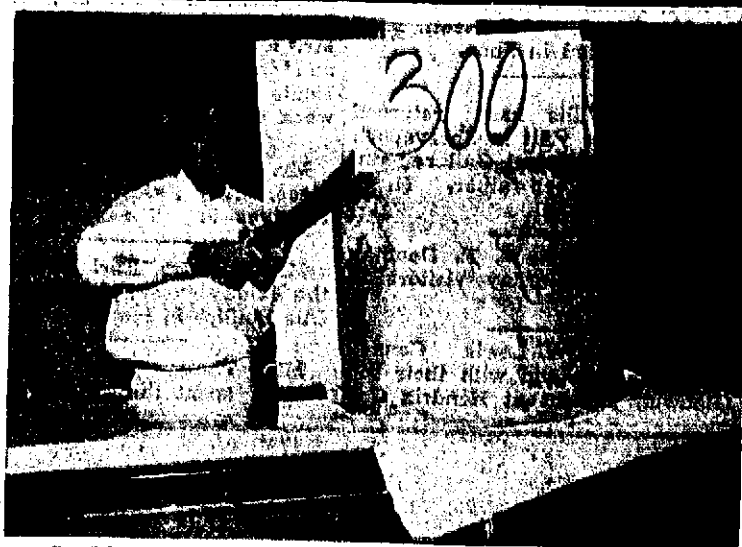

They recently had sent articles to the Birmingham paper predicting an uprising in Cuba. Cuban authorities have insisted there is no revolt and said Castro's rebel group is being hunted down in the Sierra Maestra Mountains of southeast Cuba.

Games were played with prizes being won by Neil Hastings and Susan Ward.

Ice cream and the pink and white birthday cake centered with a ballerina doll and the inscription "Glenda is 8" was served from a table covered with a birthday cloth. Favors were balloons, mustache whistles and bubble gum.

Sweetheart Bouquet

"Treasure of Love" was the theme for the annual Sweetheart Banquet at the First Baptist Church on Saturday evening and was sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Harrell Hines, Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Lindsey and Mrs. Edward Bryson.

Covers were laid for thirty eight guests at the table covered with a white cloth and were marked by programs in white and gold. A centerpiece of King Alfred daffodils and gold beads carried out the white and gold theme. Treasure chests were placed at intervals along the table. The girls were presented flower wristlets. The invocation was given by Rev.

Lindsey.
Ed Bryson and Miss Virginia Purtle were crowned King and Queen by Mr. Hines. The welcome address was given by James Roy Phillips. Johnny Hines served as master of ceremonies and introduced the guest speaker, Eugene Wise of Ouachita College, who spoke on "Treasures of Love". Mrs. Hines conducted a treasure hunt. The benediction was given by Ed Bryson. Miss June Hines was in charge of the music. Mrs. Wise was also a guest.

Price Fixing on Liquor Will Stay

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A bill to remove price-fixing for liquor was defeated 50-16 in the House today. The bill would have repealed the so-called Fair Trade Act of 1949 which specifies mark-ups which both wholesalers and retailers must charge.

The proposed repealer was introduced by Rep. Jim Slack of Clark county, who said it would save consumers millions of dollars a year if competition were restored to the liquor business.

Rep. William H. Thompson of Washington, You and Sergeant Morgan were both in the 16th and you were both in a little rear-guard fight down in Texas round about June 22, 1865 . . . when our bunch was headed for Mexico. You whipped our boys back there and it bothered us a lot, later on You got our supplies . . . and $25,000 in gold coin that Shelby was counting on.

He paused and Jagger scowled at him. "Wait a minute, Alder. I know what you're driving at. Morgan told me. You've an idea that it was Morgan and I who got that gold . . . that its the money we used to build this town."

"That's right. 'Suppose I said that we did come out of the army with, say, $25,000. That wouldn't prove a thing. 'No, it wouldn't, because the army never had a report of any one picking up $25,000 down in Texas. The funny part of it is, that along about five months ago General Sheridan got $25,000. It was in greenbacks, but the patriotic citizen who sent it didn't sign his name to the note that came with the money. The note just said that it was some money in a cinder had captured while serving with the army, that he wanted to make things right."

Jagger looked sharply at Alder. "You're lying. 'Don't call me a liar, Mr. Jagger," said Alder softly. "There's just one more thing I haven't told you. That the Johnny Reb who was guarding that gold was my brother, Jim Alder."

Hearing Set on Extradition

LITTLE ROCK (AP) Gov. Orval Faubus was scheduled to hold hearing late today on requested extradition of Johnny B. Williams, an El Dorado Negro charged with murder in Chicago. Williams is charged with slaying Frank Cribbs, another Negro, on Dec. 22, 1936.

The largest man-made lake in the world is Katun Lake, a part of the Pnn Canal. It has 133 square miles.

Poinsett County spoke in opposition. He said he might favor the bill if liquor licenses for wholesale drug stores and the like were revoked and the only outlets were the independently operated ones.

The House today adopted a resolution directing the Legislative Council to study laws relating to expenditure of school funds by superintendents.

The council will report its findings and any recommendations for revisions to the 1939 Legislature. The resolution was proposed by Rep. Charlie G. Johnston of Craighead County.

Rep. Carl Purnell of Jefferson County failed for the second time to have his bill to lengthen residence requirements for divorce seekers made a special order of business today.

The Purnell motion got a majority of 40 to 25 but that did not meet the two-thirds requirement necessary to suspend the rules for the special order. Purnell was unsuccessful with a similar motion yesterday afternoon.

His bill would require six months residence as a prerequisite for an Arkansas divorce. Three months is now required.

The house passed with little opposition administration bills to establish an intermediate reformatory for male prisoners between 14 and 24 years of age. Allot proceeds from sale of confiscated liquor to the state General Fund rather than to the county school district in which the capture was made as at present.

Require new insurance companies to have a capitalization of at least $150,000.

Permits State Hospital to set up a vocal rehabilitation program with expected aid from federal funds.

CHAPTER 34

In The Longhorn, Jagger called the manager, Blake, to one side. "Where can I get in touch with Wild Jack Mason? Did he tell you where he was headed for when he left here?"

"He didn't tell anyone. He snuck out of town the minute he turned in his star. Blake shrugged. 'Somebody said something about sein' him in K.C. a while ago. He was hanging around Chief Speers place, giving shooting demonstrations.' Blake shook his head. 'He's a fancy man with a gun. Probably the best in the country'.

Jagger turned away from Blake and went to the door. As he went out, he passed a man coming in, a cowboy by his clothing, a gaunt, unshaven man.

Jagger was outside before he realized that the man was Tom Alder and turning, he went back into the saloon.

Alder was already at the bar. Jagger went up to him and said, 'Haven't seen you around lately.' 'Just came in from Texas with General Simcoe. He's gone on to the hotel to see if his daughter's got there yet.'

"Shes here," Jagger said briefly. Then: "Something id like to talk to you about in private, Alder. I wonder if you could come over to the hotel in a few minutes. I'll be up in my room. Room three. Come right up and we'll have a talk."

"Id like to have a talk with you," said Alder. "Id like it a lot."

There was no one in the lobby but the night clerk and Alder, giving the man a careless glance, went up the stairs. He found room three and knocked on the door.

Jagger opened the door, stepped aside for Alder to enter, then closed the door.

"I won't beat a'bout the bush," Jagger said bluntly. "You're the right man for the job I'm about to propose to you. You've killed your man. That's what I want you to do now—kill a man."

Alder showed no change of expression. "Who's the man you want killed?"

"I'll tell you when you agree to the job."

The faintest hint of a sardonic smile curled the left side of Alder's mouth. "Mr. Jagger," he said, "that's a very interesting little problem proposition. And like the way you made it. Of course you wouldn't come right out like that with anyone else. Kill a man for me. But I'm a safe man to talk to like that. I'm a former Missouri Bushwhacker. Im a killer. A fugitive who cant go home. The Union Army posted a reward for me. But the Yankee government in Washington passed a general amnesty bill this summer. Even us downright die-hard guerrillas can come in now. We're not outlawed any more. I can gon right back to Ray County, Mo, and show my face on the street."

"I'm willing to pay you—enough."

"Mr. Jagger, you haven't talked to me more than to say hello in the several times I've been in Pawnee City. You don't know me."

"I know all about you, Jagger said harshly. "Morgan, my former partner, told me quite a lot about you."

Alder continued in a low, even tone. "Guess where I've been since last November, when I pulled out of her? He smiled thinly. "I made some money here. Enough to do a little traveling. I even had a little piece to slip get some information that I wanted."

"Washington?" exclaimed Jagger, startled.

"That's where the War Department is. Your—our—Yankee War Department. They keep some awfully good records there, all the battles, all the skirmishes, the names and rank of everyone. You served in the 16th Illinois Cavalry, Mr. Jagger. A sergeant, weren't you?"

"You didn't have to go to Washington to hear that," Jagger said irritably. "You could have learned that right here in Pawnee City."

"Oh, I knew it before I went

Police Unable to Identify Slain Boy

By JOHN CLANCY

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Somewhere in this country a little boy is missing from his home.

He is a nice looking child between four and six years old. He has blue eyes and brown hair. He weighs between 25 and 40 pounds. He's slender and thin-faced.

His body, battered brutally, was found eight days ago in a cardboard box in the Fox chase section of this city. Police have tried every method at their command to learn his identity, but have run up against a blank wall. No one knows who he is. And no one has reported a little boy like him missing.

Police have two theories. They believe he was murdered by his parents or guardians or he was taken from some other part of the country and his body was dumped here.

The city's chief medical examiner, Dr. Joseph W. Spelman, who conducted the autopsy, said the boy definitely was murdered. He said there were bruises all over the body, particularly on the head, leg and arms.

The police laboratory learned a lot about the boy. Their investigations showed he apparently came from a good home because he had been well cared for. He was 41 inches tall. He might have a defect in his left eye but he did not wear glasses. He had injured his chin at one time, leaving an "L" shaped scar under his chin.

When found, his body was wrapped in a cheap cotton flannel blanket which had been ripped in half. The blanket was a green plaid with diamonds and blocks in rust, brown and white. All the colors were faded.

His hair had been crudely cut short, possibly to conceal his identity. If that was the motive for the amateur haircut, it has succeeded thus far.

But, his identity is still a mystery. Police say they are stumped. They wonder how the disappearance of a little boy can be concealed so well.

Today, more than 300 policemen, park guards and detectives are making a foot-by-foot search of the neighborhood, questioning residents and looking for some tiny clue which may have been overlooked.

Everything else in the quest of his identity has failed. A photograph taken at the morgue and retouched to show what he looked like in real life has been shown frequently on television screens throughout a wide area.

Hundreds of thousands of posters bearing the original and retouched photographs, a picture of the blan-

Publisher Sorry Bill Withdrawn

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Publisher C. E. Palmer today said that he was sorry to see the withdrawal of a bill which would have placed certain newspapers under the Public Service Commission.

Palmer said the bill, which would have placed the El Dorado and Texarkana, as well as two Fort Smith newspapers, would have been affected by the measure.

The publisher said that he had written the governor and two or three members of the Legislature, asking them to have the bill brought up on the floor.

"This would have given an excellent opportunity to discover whether a free press was to be permitted to operate in Arkansas," he said.

Palmer said that he felt sure that "with the present Legislature and administration," the bill would have passed both houses and would have been signed by the governor.

The measure was withdrawn by the author, Rep. John Bethell of Prairie County.

Americans use more than 70 billion pounds of paper a year.

ket, and a description of the boy have been sent throughout the country. They have been posted in supermarkets, post offices, department stores and even on utility poles. But no one has come forth to claim the body.

Thousands of persons have viewed the body at the morgue, but none knew him. There were some possibilities. A barber thought he had cut the boy's hair a few weeks ago. A Marine just returned from overseas thought the victim might be the youngest of his 17 brothers and sisters. A couple, whose five young children were taken from them by the courts, thought he might be their eldest son. But all were wrong.

Police thought the cardboard box in which the body was found might be a clue. The box had once contained a bassinet and it appeared to be new. Detectives traced its origin. They found the bassinet had been sold by a J.C. Penney store in suburban Upper Darby, miles from the thicket in which the body had been dumped.

The store said 12 similar bassinets had been sold by the store between Dec. 3 and mid-February. Police broadcast appeals to the purchasers to come in and tell how they disposed of the cartons.

Most of the purchasers have reported in, but their cartons were accounted for. A few purchasers still have not been found.

Footprints, dental records and other avenues of investigation all turned out to be blind alleys.

The question still remains: "Whose boy is this?"

WOULD-BE FARMER — Five-year-old Walter Bill Cash wants to be a farmer, so it's a real inspection trip he's making aboard his pony "Lightning" around his Clear Lake, Iowa, farm home. A victim of polio, he is the 1957 Easter Seal Child of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Before attending Easter Seal Center at Mason City, Iowa, he couldn't walk. Today he wears a leg brace and uses crutches which he will soon discard.

Officer in Missile Case Is Outspoken

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) Tall, erect Col. John Nickerson, whose court-martial within the next few weeks may become one of America's most famous trials, is described by his associates as one of the most brilliant men in the missile field.

Nickerson is a much-decorated career soldier of 41, a graduate of the U. S. Military Academy and a full colonel since Dec. 10, 1934, when he was still in his late 30s.

He looks every inch the professional soldier. A native of Paris, Ky., he served 18 months in Europe during World War II in the artillery.

Moved here in January of last year, the Nickersons live in a big eight-room house, built in 1817, with their four children.

Mrs. Nickerson is the former Carolyn Strauss of Winston-Salem, N. C. The children are Jean, 14, and Charles, 13, both in high school here, and Danny, 5, and R. H., 2.

Mrs. Nickerson is a highly vocal supporter of her husband. She believes her husband will be tried for saying out loud what many of his associates feel and believe concerning the whole missile program.

Nickerson's court-martial probably will begin early in April. Robert K. Bell, Nickerson's attorney, called the charges against the young colonel "absolutely ridiculous and absurd."

Nickerson has been restricted to the post since charges were filed against him two months ago.

Mrs. Nickerson is convicted her husband "has done nothing to violate security."

"Why, he has been dealing with security matters nearly all his life," she says.

Bell adds that "when the facts become known, Col. Nickerson will appear in an entirely different light."

Specifications filed by the 3rd Army name two others in connection with the charges against Nickerson. They are Walter Weismann, a civilian employee, and Lt. Col. Lee B. James.

Pope Formally Signals Lent

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Pius XII today marked his own forehead with ashes as the penitential season of Lent began.

The pontiff marked his forehead while he said mass in his private chapel. Only a few members of his Vatican household attended.

Today, Ash Wednesday, is the day that Roman Catholics have their foreheads marked with ashes as a sign of penance and a reminder of the mortality of man.

The Lenten Season ends with Easter.

The only flour "Custom-Milled" for each part of the country—and each kind of baking

Where do you live on the map? Wherever you are, the PurAsnow you buy at the store has been milled especially for your part of the country, and the kind of things you bake.

There is a difference in what flours can do for you, you know.

That's why we go to the trouble of milling certain kinds of wheats into flour which will do the very best for you.

That's why everything you bake with PurAsnow turns out right.

That's why we can make this guarantee: PurAsnow is perfect for everything you bake, or we'll repay you twice what you paid for it. Fair enough?

16,000 women helped choose the exquisite Queen Bess pattern!

To find the silverware pattern women would cherish most, we showed 24 patterns to women in their own homes. Queen Bess was the favorite. The dainty floral design is simple enough to go with so many dinnerware and linen patterns. Yet it is graceful and distinctive in its own right.

REINFORCED WITH SILVER AT POINTS OF WEAR!

For longer service, principal spoons and forks are reinforced at the area of maximum wear with an extra layer of solid silver. This is the much wanted Tudor Plate—a quality silverplate created by the famed Oneida Community Silversmiths, craftsmen who take pride in bringing you fine workmanship. Every piece carries a guarantee!

How to keep your Queen Bess Pattern Silverware lovely as new!

1. To wash, dip a few pieces at a time quickly in hot suds, rinse under running water. Dry. Polish.
2. Your silverware will mellow and grow even lovelier with daily use. The tiny scratches that appear serve to increase your silverware's richness and mellowness through the years.

3. Rotate each piece in your set so that all will be used and each piece receives equal wear.

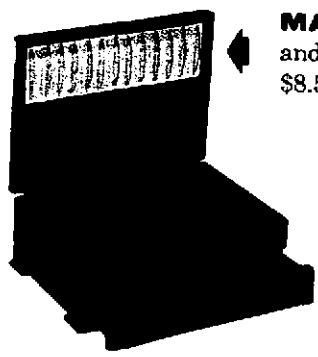

4. Never leave silverware unwashed overnight. Never let drain without drying. If there is discoloration from eggs, clean immediately with a good silver polish.

5. To clean, use a good cream polish. Rub piece briskly lengthwise—never crosswise or with a circular motion. Then wash in hot soapy water and rinse in clean hot water.
